

Appendix A

Archives Holdings in the Texas State Library and Archives Commission

A list was compiled of records received from TCEQ and its predecessors for this report. Many of the series listed below do not have a finding aid and have not yet been processed (arranged and described). The Archives maintains an in-house database that tracks all accessions so we can easily find records received but for which we have not yet prepared a finding aid. Once a finding aid is completed, it is mounted on the TARO (Texas Archival Resources Online) website, a collection of finding aids maintained at the University of Texas that includes postings from various archival repositories. Links to the online finding aids have been provided. We have a few older finding aids that are not online, but that do exist in paper form in our research room, such as the one for the State Reclamation Engineer records. Files that are unprocessed are noted. Many of the unprocessed accessions have come from the State Records Center, rather than directly from TCEQ and are older files that have fulfilled their retention requirements. Several of these series have already been appraised; these appraisals were incorporated into the overall report. Records received directly from TCEQ are marked with an asterisk (*).
