

FS4.2:C49

THE

96. B49

TEXAS STATE LIBRARY
Austin, Texas

AT WORK

Enrollees learn the meaning of hard, honest work. They have a sense of pride in doing a job that needs doing, and doing it well.

All camps are located in healthful surroundings where need of conservation is urgent.

The enrollees are sent from the camps out to this work in the field.

You have probably seen them working in forests, parks, or on farm lands.

For more than 7 years now the CCC has labored on these conservation jobs.

The excellence of the finished results,

The conduct of the enrollees, and their record after discharge from the CCC have been largely responsible for the good name of the Corps throughout the country.

Maybe you think these finished jobs just sort of happened—

But they didn't.

They were planned for in advance and accomplished only by hard work and wholehearted cooperation between CCC enrollees and those in authority.

This cooperation is demanded of all enrollees.

[13]

Enrollees receiving instruction on the job from a foreman.

